The Research Department “Linguistics” at the Austrian Centre for Digital Humanities and Cultural Heritage (ACDH-CH), a research department of the Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW), Austria’s leading non-university research institution, is seeking an

ACADEMY SCIENTIST (F*M) in Lexicography

(part-time, 20h per week)

The position is situated in the OeAW long term project “Dictionary of Bavarian Dialects in Austria” (‘Wörterbuch der bairischen Mundarten in Österreich’, WBÖ), which is dedicated to the comprehensive documentation and lexicographic analysis of the various base and regional dialects of (historical) Austria and South Tyrol. As part of the WBÖ editorial staff, your main area of responsibility is lexicographic work, in particular writing dictionary articles which are published in the Lexical Information System Austria (‘Lexikalisches Informationssystem Österreich’, LIÖ) (<https://lioe.dioe.at>). The WBÖ follows a modern text technological approach in which digital methods and formats (databases, XML/TEI) are of central importance. Basic technical skills and open-mindedness towards the latest developments in the field of digital humanities are therefore as much part of the requirements profile as sound knowledge in the field of dialectology and diachronic linguistics.

Your tasks:

- Lexicographic work for the “Dictionary of Bavarian Dialects in Austria” (WBÖ)
- Assistance in the central research areas of the research department “Linguistics” (consisting of postdocs, predocs, student employees and professors)
- Assistance in project meetings (of different constellations and sizes), conventions, conferences and symposia

Your profile:

- Completed doctorate in subject of German philology / German studies with a main focus on German linguistics
- Experiences in research project of German linguistics (preferred area: lexicography)
- Research focus in one or more of the following areas (verifiable through project experience, final paper for a degree etc.): dialectology, lexicography, corpus linguistics
- Open-mindedness towards the newest developments in the field of digital humanities
- Very good knowledge of German, very good knowledge of English
- Teamwork, integration capacity, independence, reliability, ability to work under pressure, flexibility

We offer:

- An international, inclusive work environment in a diverse team in the heart of Vienna
- Work with unique cultural heritage data in an ÖAW long term project
- A strong focus on innovation and new technologies in a multidisciplinary field
- Flexible and family-friendly working hours
- Self-determined work
- Possibilities to contribute your ideas and initiatives
- An environment to grow your interests and develop your skills
- An open communication culture / open-door policy

The initial annual gross salary is € 27.009,01 in accordance with the collective agreement for employees of the Austrian Academy of Sciences. Based on your experience and academic degree a higher salary is negotiable. The employment will start at the earliest in January 2023 and run initially for 5 years, with the option to extend.

Interested? Take the opportunity and send us your application today (including CV, statement of motivation and references of previous projects) by e-mail to acdh-ch-jobs@oeaw.ac.at, mentioning Job ID: ACDH-CH139AS122, no later than November 21, 2022.

The Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW) pursues a non-discriminatory employment policy and values equal opportunities, as well as diversity. Individuals from underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply.
