

JOIN FORCES TO FIND ANSWERS at ZiF

The Center for Interdisciplinary Research (ZiF) is a university-based Institute for Advanced Study, serving as a pivotal hub of interdisciplinary research within Bielefeld University.

At the Center, we strongly believe in the fundamental relevance of interdisciplinary and team-based research to achieve significant progress. Do you want to dive into a scientific question and discuss it with colleagues from diverse disciplines and perspectives? Are you looking for a research infrastructure, financial resources and organisational support to do so?

ZiF offers just that: Our funding format “Research in Groups”, with regularly recurring calls, enables groups of researchers to focus on their work while hosted on ZiF campus, allowing for ideal working conditions and short routes.
